

HERE'S A CHANCE

Can Become a Princess.
(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—An American heiress with $2,000,000 and a desire to be a priestess may communicate with Pastor J. Berger of the Roman Catholic Church of Leopold, Perry county, Ind. The $2,000,000 must be in coin, cash or convertible securities. Lawyer Warner of this city, a couple of days ago, received the subpoenaed letter, written in French, on the official note paper of the church in question:

"Sir: Learning that you take charge of affairs of all kinds, I would like you to undertake to bring about my marriage in regard to which I beg make the following proposition: A young French Prince, a friend of mine desires to contract a marriage with America with a young person (Jeune personne) who has at least $2,000,000

Can you secure such an individual for him? If you can, you will be paid after the marriage, through me, $10,000 as commission, which will be guaranteed to you. If you carry the matter through on or before December 1 you will receive an extra compensation of $5000, as the need is urgent.

"The young Prince in question belongs to the most illustrious family of the French nobility. His title dates back to the time of the Crusades. He is 29 years of age and a Catholic."

very extreme Catholic. He desires that the young person should also be a Catholic, but the religious question will not seriously be an obstacle to an otherwise satisfactory marriage. If you will undertake this affair of the heart (affaire de coeur) please let me hear from you at once. If, however, you cannot, will you kindly give me the address of some congenial, well-to-do (Signed.) "J. BERGER,

"Pastor The Church of Leopold." Warner replied to the effect that would attend to the matter forthwith.
He now proposes to send the application blanks to all marriageable females who are possessed of the required naber of dollars. It is his opinion that the Prince will not be particular about the age or physical attributes of the eligible candidates.

The Midnight Murderer Drops One of the Spoons He Was Carrying and Set the Pet Dog, Hostess's Screams and the Yell of a Neighbor.

Los Angeles, Sept. 10.—

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TIMES.)

LITTLETON, (Colo.) Nov. 9.—(Special Dispatch.) Miss May Moore of Angeles distinguished herself last night by shooting a burglar who had forced an entrance into the house where she was stopping for a visit. Miss Settle, her host, and Miss Moore are in separate apartments and neither would have been disturbed, save for the burglar's silver spoon falling to the floor with sufficient noise to arouse a pet dog. The visitor, already looted a majority of residences in the town and was about to take his departure with all the good of Settle's packed in a sack, when the girls came to the rescue.

Miss Settle screamed, and the intruder started for the window. California girl was made of sterner stuff, for rushing to her bedroom, seized a revolver and, taking deliberate aim, fired. A scream rang out from the apartment above.

The report alarmed some neighbors who came to the relief of the woman. Then it was discovered that almost every house in town had been plundered and that more than one woman had taken part in the raid. Miss M. was the recipient of many congratulations, for, on account of her position, the burglars were forced to leave her house alone.

The British Ultimatum Has Raised a Storm of Indignation.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The information of excited public feeling in Venezuela, resulting from British demands, reached here today in the Caracas papers of dates up to November 7. The prevailing sentiment is for immediate war preparations, although some conservative journals urge moderation. The British ultimatum

The Diario de Caracas, the semi-official government organ, says: "In an emergency arises and the go-

men of Venezuela is obliged to

The statement is made of the territory force requisites. El Tiempo urges the establishment of military onies along the frontier. These draw Venezuelans and would provide force available to resist English encroachment. It adds: "The case against England is a national question. The reports from London state that England proposes to use Venezuela has done much toward ready, but she has not yet enough."

A strong appeal to patriotic sentiment is made. It is pointed out that the Argentine Republic won a war against Great Britain and that Mexico against a combination of France, England and Spain. The paper states that a people who abandon their NOTES.—(1) Our guaranteed circulation exceeds the combined circulation of any other two Los Angeles daily newspapers.

(2) Attention is directed to the fact that the NET or GROSS CIRCULATION of THE TIMES is shown regularly in these monthly statements. The "returns" are actually small, but are always carefully reported and deduced from the gross circulation. The actual fluctuation, up and down, according to the times and seasons, is thus truly exhibited.

(3) THE TIMES is the only Los Angeles paper which has regularly published sworn statements of its circulation, both gross and net, weekly, monthly and yearly, during the past several years. ADVERTISERS HAVE THE RIGHT TO KNOW THE NET CIRCULATION of the medium which seeks their business, and THE TIMES gives them correctly, from time to time.

A WEEK OF COURT FETES AND CEREMONIES.

Arrest of a Recruit at Potsdam Because He Would Not Be Sworn In.

The Troops are Warned to Think of the Possibility of War with Russia.

Agrarians Resuming Active Operations—Outraging Secret Military Trials—A Science of Socialistic Literature.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORTS) BERLIN, Nov. 9.—(By Atlantic Cable. Associated Press Copyright, 1895.) There has been another week of court fetes and public ceremonies. Two somewhat sensational incidents occurred on Monday at the swearing-in of the recruits at Potsdam.

One of the recruits, a man named Kallweil, a Mennonite from Dalkheim, East Prussia, refused to take the oath, and was instantly arrested by order of the Emperor and carried off to a dungeon. As this occurred in the presence of the King of Portugal, who was visiting His Imperial Majesty, and as the King failed to grasp the meaning of the incident, the matter was explained to him by the Emperor.

The second incident consisted in the extraordinary remarks of the evangelist pastor, who warned the recruits that they must not only think of "Wacht am Rhein" but also of the "Wacht am Weichsel." This utterance leveled against Russia has caused a great deal of surprise, and it is rumored that the Russian Embassy has reported the matter to St. Petersburg.

At the swearing-in of the recruits, Spandau and Charlottenburg recruits on Thursday, the public was rigorously excluded, a cordon of police preventing all approach to the place where the ceremony took place. This precautionary measure has been severely commented upon, but it was due to the special order of the Emperor, who, moreover, verbally expressed his satisfaction to the police president and distributed nineteen decorations to various police officers who had displayed zeal upon recent occasions and upon this occasion.

At the St. Hubert chase on Tuesday in Gruenwald, in which two hundred courtiers took part, the order of the White Stag was revived by the Emperor. The motto of the order, in French, is worn in gold embroidery across the breast, and runs: "Vive le Roi et ses chasseurs" (Long live the King and his hunters). At the banquet, which was afterward held at the Gruenwald Castle, Emperor William proposed the toast, "Fidelity and Faith." Only one wild boar was speared during the chase, and this was sold to the keeper of a popular Berlin restaurant, to whom the Emperor wished a good appetite.

The Agrarians are resuming active agitation in view of the approach of the reopening of the Reichstag. Their speakers are touring the country, declaring that the palliative measures proposed by the government are not satisfactory, and that Count von Kaunitz's proposal for a state grain monopoly will also suffice to relieve the depression. Moreover, they demand the government appeal the principle of bimetalism. The Agrarians are encouraged in this agitation by the hesitating opposition of the government. The Prussian Ministry of Husbandry only recently declared that the government was considering how to prevent a further fall in silver.

The future policy of the Agrarians is indicated in the speech of their leaders, Herr von Puttkammer, brother of the former Minister, in which he declared that if the members of the Reichstag, representing trade and industrial centers, opposed the demands of the agriculturists, the latter would take their revenge by abolishing the protective duties on coal and iron, and thus ruin the German iron industry.

The proposed reforms in the manner of conducting military trials, after hanging fire for a number of years, have come to the front again, and will be brought before the Reichstag this winter. The Emperor does not favor publicity in such trials; but the Minister for War, Gen. Bronsart von Schellendorf, yielding to pressure brought to bear upon his department throughout Germany, has abandoned his opposition to the measure, which the Bundesrath and it is expected that decreeing comprehensive changes will be passed by the Reichstag.

Herr Richter and some of the Socialist leaders collected a lot of highly interesting material during the summer months, showing the outrageous cases of secret military trials, which will be submitted to the Reichstag.

At the military-control meetings this week for the first time, the new imperial order was read which prohibits not only the possession and circulation of revolutionary or Socialist literature within military barracks, but which also prohibits their possession or circulation outside the barracks, even among soldiers belonging to the military reserve, and severe penalties are provided for contraventions to this order.

The Sunday, Wednesday and Thursday issues of the Socialist organ Vorwaerts were seized by the police, and charges of lese majeste have been preferred against three of the editors of the paper. One of the incriminating articles was headed "Gnade wem Gnade gebort," directly attacking the Emperor for pardoning two police sergeants who treated two citizens brutally, and another ridiculed the divine-right theory.

Advice received here from Freidrichsberg say that Prince Bismarck's condition is satisfactory, barring facial neuralgia and frequent insomnia, but a growing weakness of the whole body is perceptible, so the old statesman seldom ventures outside on foot.

Bertha Pierson, prima donna of the Berlin Opera, has entered into a contract with Abbey & Grau to undertake a tour of America in the spring.

Carson S. Breckinridge, son of the United States Minister to Russia, has entered for a four-years' course at the Berlin University.

The police have searched the home in Zealandorf, close to Berlin, of Herr Schumann, the representative of an American newspaper, for treasonable literature and have seized several papers. Schumann is a Prussian subject and a former employee of the Secret Police.

The American colony here will celebrate Thanksgiving day with a dinner and ball at the Kaiserhof. The Committee on Arrangements included the United States Ambassador, Theodore Runyon; the United States Consul-

The Battle

Of life is a hard fight, and the man who drinks whisky seldom wins. He may be up in the front ranks for a day or a week, but in the end whisky gets the best of him, and he is put to driving a mule team in the rear, and the most peculiar thing about it is, that the very men who get shoved to the rear in life's hustle are the ones who "can quit any time." It's for just these men that the Keeley cure comes a Godsend, helping the weak and wavering, adding strength to the stronger men who have felt the power and the curse of rum. The men who take the Keeley treatment win a victory as grand as any won by a single man at the battle

Just received by the Z. L. Parnelle Company, a large invoice of rich, choice glass, including a great many pieces of useful as well as ornamental articles, especially suitable for presents. Our importations of French and German goods are arriving daily and our stock was never before so attractive. The question of keeping the house warm is now of interest to all and we want the public to know that we have the best oil heating-stove on the market. Any one that has tried our Ideal Heater will tell you that it is odorless and that they would not be without one. A new shipment of Little Brownie lunch boxes just received. Z. L. Parnelle Company, 233 and 234 South Spring street.

Hard to get over an ugly fence and a balky horse. High prices are an ugly fence and make folks reluctant to buy hats and furnishings. Now to make matters easy and pleasant for buyers, Desmond, in the Bryson Block, removed the fence altogether, beat down the prices to do a large business on small margins than to do a small business on big margins. He puts his prices down to make business brisk, for now and in the future. If money can't be saved for hats and men's furnishings at Desmond's store, it can't be saved anywhere.

What is more useful in any home than a good sewing machine? The time has gone by for you to be taxed big prices. We have adopted the no-agent plan, which enables us to sell the best machine on earth for $20. We also have hand machines for $15 for a lady who cannot use the treadle, and what is nicer than our fancy drop-head cabinets for $30? Each machine warranted and kept in order free of charge for ten years. White Sewing Machine office, 233 South Spring.

S. C. Torrance, manager for Mosler Safe Company, is growing very fast. He says Buffalo is the place for business. ## Gayer and Gayer

Grows the store, greater and greater grows the throne—The Trimmed
Hats, the untrimmed
ones, the flowers, the
feathers, the ribbons, the ornaments, all make a mass of sparkling brightness quite in harm ony
with the blue of California skies, with less to pay than ever—Think
of THAT, less to pay
than ever, and the last of every new style—See if we haven't given it to you—in view of the coming opera season we shall make for the next three days a most unusual display of Opera Hats and Bonnets, the newest Paris prettiness—
To pass Zobel's is to pass the fountainhead of fashions.

HIS EXCELLENCY IN BERLIN.

LEDERER INTRODUCED AS THE GOVERNOR OF GOOSE ISLAND.
BRASS BAND WITHOUT MUSIC.

German Waiters Increase Their Pay by Learning Cockney English—Beefsteak that Smacks of the Deodorizer—The Bedsheets are Buttoned to the Quilts in Berlin Hotels—The Grand Entree into Berlin—The Price of the Pillow Goes in the Bill.

(From a Special Correspondent of The Times.)

BERLIN, Oct. 29.—The irrepressible Gotham Devilburg is here. But he no longer bears a cognomen so suggestive of an insectivorous denizen of Sheol. He is De Ville Boggs, Esq., of New York city, N. Y., U.S.A., from now on. The plausible, the audacious wretch entirely won the affections of the Bremen police, and actually convinced the authorities of the town that De Ville Boggs was his sure-enough name, and that they had misread the filled-in police blank that had caused him so much trouble. In fact, he made them believe that he was the innocent victim of his own clerical error. The American Consul at Bremen helped him to straighten out matters generally, and thus, in less than a week, he was released with a reprimand.

The reprimand was in German.

He has promised to behave himself in the future, and he is certainly making a desperate effort in that laudable direction. I'd hate to be under such a strain myself, and I do hope he'll lose that martyred look in time.

The first time I heard from him after

Closing the door and turning to the head waiter, I asked, "Who do you think I am?"

"I trust there is nothing amiss," he answered; "you are His Grace's Excellency the Governor of Goose Island,

State of Illinois. Your friend Col.

Boggs has informed us of Your Excellency's high standing."

"Send the colonel here at once," I said quietly. I remained in full control of my emotions.

In a few moments De Ville Boggs

sauntered in, a look of intense, sincere satisfaction in his clear blue eyes.

"Well, old fellow, how do you like your quarters," he asked before I had a chance to speak to him.

"Never you mind my quarters. I feel like quattering you. What in Belgarian blues do you mean by foisting

me on these people as the Governor of Goose Island? What—what—"

I was too angry for speech.

"Calm yourself. That bullneck believes you are some day. Count, say, thirteen."

I simply glared at him.

After a pause he remarked: "You needn't count any further. You are

MAYNE'S MORALS.

EVIDENCE SHOWS THEM TO BE DECIDEDLY OFF COLOR.

Nevertheless an Effort Will be Made to Justify His Acts by His Modes of Life.

The Prosecution Rests After Concluding Its Testimony in Proof of Mayne's Perfidious Conduct.

The Defense, After Examining Two Character Witnesses, Secures an Adjournment Until Monday Morning.

The trial of Clifton E. Mayne for criminal assault on Elsie Shipton continues to be the drawing-card at the Courtroom. Standing-room is at a premium in Judge Smith's court, so great is the interest taken in the case. Among the daily auditors are several members of the Friday Morning Club, who are interested for a purely sociological reason. They want to see how young girls are treated in court in such cases, with a view to learning what can be done to protect them from the fearful ordeal of cross-examination, where no limit is put to the latitude of the questions asked. Although the attorneys on both sides of the case have shown all the consideration that could have been expected under the circumstances, the nature of the testimony and some of the language used in bringing it out is anything but edifying, and would be considered exceedingly indecent in polite company.

Mrs. Shipton was put through a severe cross-examination yesterday, and her testimony showed her to be a very weak woman; that is, one easily influenced, who, instead of wishing to see her daughter's betrayer punished, would be willing to receive favors at his hands, and has even consented at the marriage of her elder daughter to the smooth rascal who, it is charged, ruined not only her, but also her younger sister. Mrs. Shipton did not altogether conceal her sympathy for Mayne, though she apparently tried to tell the truth regarding her daughter Elsie's birth and other circumstances connected with the case.

Constantly J. Harry Johnston proved an interesting witness, in that he told how Mayne tried to induce him to help bring about a marriage between himself (Mayne) and Elsie, but the sturdy constable was not to be wheedled into being a party to such a mesalliance.

The prosecution concluded its case at yesterday's session of the court, so far as the taking of testimony is concerned, and the defense opened by putting on the stand two character witnesses. Attorney Copeland, in his opening statement, perhaps sounded the keynote of the defense by saying that it would be shown that the acts that seemed peculiar on Mayne's part, would not seem so, judged by Mayne's mode of life. Probably so, but the chances are that the jury will not consider Mr. Mayne's philosophy conducive to good morals and the best interests of society.

An adjournment was taken at 2 o'clock on account of Attorney Copeland's health. When the case is resumed tomorrow, Mayne will probably be put on the witness-stand himself and given an opportunity to attempt to justify his relations toward the Shipton girls.

ELISIE'S BIRTH RECORD.
When the trial was resumed yesterday morning Mrs. Shipton was recalled for further cross-examination, but the prosecution interrupted with the introduction of a certified copy of the record of Elsie's birth. The record was from the health office archives of Dubuque county, Iowa, and set forth that Jennie E. Shipton had been born to Clara Evelyn Shipton and Charles Edward Shipton at No. 338 Julian avenue, Dubuque, June 12, 1881, and that Dr. S. M. Fowler had attended on the mother when the child was born. Mr. Copeland at first evinced an inclination to object, but finally withdrew his objection and the document became a part of the evidence of the case.

It will be remembered that Mrs. Shipton, on Friday, testified that the name Jennie was afterward changed to Elsie. MRS. SHIPTON CROSS-EXAMINED.
On cross-examination Mrs. Shipton said she did not know the whereabouts of her husband, Elsie was nine years old when she and her husband separated. They were married one and one-half years before a child was born to them. Witness was nineteen years old when she married. She had known her husband ever since she was a child. She was living in Dubuque when she married him, and went across the river into Wisconsin to have the ceremony performed. In San Francisco a witness had lived at No. 1030 Howard, 1618 Rausch, 509 Shotwell, 2384 Howard and at a number on Langston street which she did not remember. These places were all south of Market street. When she first met Mr. Mayne nothing was said about his adopting the two girls, but he did speak of placing them in school. Mr. Mayne did not agree to help the witness, but Della said she might be able to do something for her. About two hours' conversation was all she had with Mr. Mayne previous to the departure of her daughters for Los Angeles. That included everything they had talked about up to that time.

The girls left for Los Angeles, February 28, and Della returned either the 10th or 11th of July. Witness received several letters from the girls, but in none of them were there any complaints. They all expressed gratitude for Mr. Mayne's kindness. Mr. Johnston brought her and Della. When they arrived in Los Angeles they went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Wright and remained there eight days. Witness then went to San Francisco alone and returned to Los Angeles October 12. She had been here ever since. The prosecution had had her plenty of jail because, the witness guessed, "they didn't want her to see her girls." Mr. Mayne told her he wanted Della to take the place of his little girl. Witness had been staying with Mr. Murphy, one of the attorneys for the defense, ever since she got out of jail. She tried to see her children but was not permitted to do so. The evening of the day on which the preliminary examination was held, Elsie said to witness that she was not hurt and was sorry that the trou was had started because she did not want to send Mr. Mayne to prison.

The last time witness came to Los Angeles she came on money furnished by her father and tried to see her girls. She had met Mr. Murphy in San Francisco several times in the first part of September. He came to the place where she was working and talked about Mr. Mayne. He wanted witness to consent to the marriage of Elsie to Mr. Mayne. She decided to come to Los Angeles on account of a letter she received from her girls. Elsie told her in a conversation that Mr. Mayne had tried to assault her and said nothing more, but did not deny that he had succeeded in accomplishing his purpose. Witness had done all she could to bring about the marriage of Elsie to Mr. Mayne, in order to save her from disgrace.

CONSTABLE JOHNSTON CALLED.
Constable J. H. Johnston was the next witness for the prosecution. Witness had had two conversations with defendant in the County Jail about five weeks ago. They were in F. B. Kennett's cell. Kennett had sent for witness and left the cell, so witness could talk with Mr. Mayne. He had arrested the defendant in San Diego. It was about 8 o'clock in the morning when the arrest was made by the witness and he was given $20 by Mr. Copeland to remain till the next day, so that an attempt could be made to procure bonds. When witness went to the County Jail defendant came into the cell, after Kennett had gone. Defendant shook witness's hand and said:

"I am so glad you have come. I want you to help me."

Witness replied: "I don't see how I can help you."

Defendant then said: "I wish you would get an interview with Elsie for me, and bring about our marriage."

Defendant added that his main object was to save Elsie from disgrace. After this statement witness said to defendant that he could help him if he would. Elsie Shipton was recalled for further examination and testified as to the details of the assaults committed on the nights of the 29th and 30th of March. The prosecution here rested its case.

THE DEFENSE OPENED.
Mr. Copeland made his opening statement for the defense, and promised that he would show that some of the actions of the defendant, which appeared so strange, were not, as a matter of fact, at all strange when considered in the light of the circumstances of his life.

A part of the transcript of the testimony of Elsie Shipton, given at the preliminary examination, was read by Mr. Copeland and was offered in evidence to show some minor contradictory statements.

Solon Bryan, Justice of the Peace, and W. J. Prout, member of the City Council, both of San Diego, testified that the reputation of the defendant for chastity was good.

AN ADJOURNMENT TAKEN.
The court adjourned at this point for the noon recess.

When the case was again called, at 1:30 o'clock, Mr. Copeland said he was very sick and did not feel able to proceed further at that time. He moved for a continuance till Monday morning, and, the prosecution favoring Mr. Copeland's request, the court ordered an adjournment till tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. At the time it is probable the defendant himself will take the stand.

REDLANDS.
Election Called to Vote High School Bonds.

REDLANDS, Nov. 9.—(Regular Correspondence.) At a meeting of the trustees of the Union High School, held this morning, the board voted to call for an election, asking that bonds be issued in the sum of $8500 for building and furnishing an addition to the present building. The date of the election was fixed for the 7th day of December. The plan is to erect the middle section of the original design of the school building, and the comparatively small amount asked for is made possible because of a large quantity of brick which is owned by the district, and can be used in the proposed addition.

The Redlands Lemon-growers' Exchange is negotiating with Harleigh Johnson, a lemon-packer of Santa Barbara, to do its packing. Mr. Johnson was present at a meeting of the exchange held on Friday afternoon.

Improving of streets on Redlands Heights is in progress.

W. R. Barnes and family are here from Colorado Springs for some weeks' stay.

Mrs. J. J. Colby, mother of Mrs. Karl C. Wells, has arrived from Waterbury, N. Y., and expects to remain part of the winter. She is accompanied by her ten-year-old son.

J. A. Eldridge and family are here from St. Paul to remain a year, and perhaps permanently.

At a meeting of the Hotel Committee held this morning the following paper was unanimously adopted: "Resolved that a sub-committee of five members to be known as the Building Committee, and to consist of Messrs. Stewart, Haver, Bennett, Meserve and Sinclair, shall have and are hereby given the following power: First, To approve of the plans, elevations and specifications for the proposed hotel, and to authorize the beginning of the work of construction; second, To appoint an inspector of construction who shall be responsible to the committee of fifteen to attend to their pleasure; third, To finally accept or reject the building, and to authorize the trustees to pay for the same; or his assignor the amounts due under the agreement and guaranty; fourth, Generally to have full power on behalf of the committee of fifteen to attend to all matters connected with the construction and acceptance of said hotel."

SOCIETY

The social whirlpool has whirled very slowly and drowsily this last week, only on two or three occasions bubbling sufficiently to make known to the world that it existed at all. Two of the largest and gayest bubbles were the two card parties given on Tuesday and Thursday evenings by Mr. and Mrs. John T. Jones of Portland street. The stag dinner given by Col. Bradbury, the luncheon given by Mrs. John R. Haynes, the musicale at the residence of Judge and Mrs. A. M. Stephens, given by the choir of Christ Church in honor of Rev. A. S. Clark, and the farewell reception to Rev. J. W. Campbell, D.D., and Mrs. Campbell, were all very delightful functions.

One of the most charming affairs of the week was the informal reception, the first of a series of four, given Friday afternoon by Mrs. L. N. Van Nuy at her home on South Spring street. The rooms were prettily decorated with chrysanthemums, asparagus plumosus, potted ferns and palms. The dining-room was in yellow. Mrs. Van Nuy was assisted in receiving by Meses. S. C. Hubbell, Dana Burks, Cates, Elliott, Campbell, the Misses Hull and Miss Keyser. The hospitalities of the dining-room were presided over by Meses. Lankershim, S. B. Caswell, Miss Lora Hubbell and Miss Anna Van Nuy. Some delightful music was heard during the afternoon; Miss Cogswell sang a French song, and gave a violin solo, accompanied by Mrs. Cogswell and Marion Wignmore Moore. Miss Angell presided in the punch-room. Among the guests were Meses. R. S. Baker, Walter Maxwell, Truman Hobbs, F. T. Bicknell, J. D. Bicknell, Catching, Hannon, O. T. Barker, J. H. Burkes, William H. White, McFarlane Mac Gowan, Briggs, Prager, J. O. Wheeler, William Pridham, H. T. Lee, J. W. A. Off, J. H. F. Peck, L. W. Blinn, Irving L. Blinn, John Wignmore, Walter Moore, Amelia Green, Polk, the Misses Mary Bloomfield, Rider, Scott, Truman, Etta Bicknell, Edna Bicknell and Cressey.

TREMONT CLUB.

A delightful dancing party was given Friday evening at Kramer's Hall by the Tremont Club. The Scheneman-Blanchard Orchestra furnished excellent music. The Reception Committee included Meses. F. B. Kitts, W. Hamaker and Ralph Walker. The floor was managed by A. C. Brown. Those present were Mrs. and Mrs. Newton Moore, Dr. and Mrs. W. Whomes, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Pettigrew, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Bates, Mrs. Heaton, the Misses Brode, Mattie Russell, George Whittaker, Alice Smith, Hattie Fowler-Mulken, Lowe, McKenna, Fox, McFarlane, Spiers, McHenry, Maguire, Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. U. Wilson, Mrs. F.

Stone, Mrs. Dawson, Miss Russell, Meses. Robert Wankowski, W. P. Jeffries, Ellwood de Garmon, C. H. Rundel, Robert Brain, W. W. Colmery, Frank Erwin, Marcus, C. P. Kitts, C. E. McStay, Walter McStay, A. Stoll, L. Youngworth, J. Harrington, O. C. Sens, Harry Fleming and Mr. Brown.

HEARTS PARTY.

Miss Celia Roberts gave a delightful "heart" party yesterday afternoon in honor of Miss Ryland, who has recently returned from Europe. Miss Roberts was assisted by Miss Boles and Miss Smith. There were five tables. The first prize, an opera bag, was won by Miss Mildred Glass, and the second, a volume of Lowell's poems, was won by Miss Mabel Ferguson. The score cards were of water-color paper, heart-shaped, decorated with roses, carnations and smilax. Those present were the Misses Ryland, Genevieve Smith, Abby Easton, Lucile Daniels, Sadie Libby, Margaret James, Edith Kirkpatrick, Edith James, Gertrude Hatch, Edna Bicknell, Mabel Ferguson and Maud Healey.

BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobill of Thirty-second street very pleasantly entertained a number of young people in honor of the eighteenth birthday of their son, George. The parlors were decorated with smilax, heliotrope, and chrysanthemums. Progressive whist was the amusement of the evening. The score cards were heart-shaped, the gentlemen's being tinged with pink and the ladies' with pale green ribbon.

The gentleman's first prize, a pearl-handled knife, was won by Otis Noyes; the consolation, a match-box, by Ross Smith. Miss Minnie Millard won the ladies' first prize, a cut-glass pickle dish, and Miss Georgia Borsler received the consolation prize, a glass flower vase.

TROLLEY PARTY.

One of the latest amusements, a trolley party, was introduced in this city last evening, when Meses. Spruance, McKee, Davis and Knorr chartered one of the large Pasadena electric cars and took a party to that town in honor of Mrs. Othman Stevens and Miss Mae Owen. The seats had been removed, and comfortable chairs substituted, and the floor was covered with soft rugs. The blinds were drawn, and with an electric heater, the car was made as cozy as a private drawing-room. The exterior of the car was draped with gay bunting and flags, and brilliantly illuminated with electric lights. A supper and dance was enjoyed at Hotel Green in Pasadena. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Stinson, Mr. and Mrs. Holliday, Miss Samm, the Misses Eaton, Meses. J. E. Cook, Byrne and Riderbaugh.

A STUDIO LUNCHEON.

A pleasant luncheon was given in the studio of the Crystal Palace by the young ladies of Prof. Samish's art class Saturday. Covers were laid for eight. The table was decorated with violets and maidenhair ferns. A pretty souvenir was presented to each guest. After the luncheon a club was formed and christened "Bohemia."

A matinee party was then proposed by the professor, and Mrs. E. L. Broderick championed the following young ladies: the Misses Ethel Gray, Hattie Andrews, Lucy McDougall, Cecil Lottrop, Grace Green, Stella Cressey and Marguerite Halstead.

THE ASSEMBLIES.

A meeting of the Committee on Arrangements for the Assemblies has been called for Monday evening at the residence of Miss Willis. The committee is made up of the following ladies and gentlemen: Miss Grayville MacGowan, Jay H. Utley, H. B. Wing, Mrs. William LeMoine Willis, R. R. Dorsey, Carl Kuriz. The management is much annoyed that a number of invitations have gone astray in the mails and is anxious that the answer cards should be filled in and returned to the secretary as soon as possible.

RAMONA CLUB.

The pretty hall and clubrooms of the Ramona Club were in festive array last evening, when the club gave its first informal reception to its friends and acquaintances. The dancing hall and corridors were gay with palms and the graceful branches of pepper and acacia, while the drawing-rooms were beautifully decorated with smilax and the dark-leaved coleus, mingled with masses of roses and chrysanthemums. A short musical programme was given early in the evening. Miss Bernice Holmes delighted her audience with a couple of contralto solos, and Mrs. E. C. Schnabel singing a ballad composed and dedicated to her by F. W. Blanchard. H. W. Brenner played the "Ramona March," composed by himself in honor of the club.

The reception finished with an informal dance. About 150 guests were present, and the first "ladies' night" of the club was a pronounced success.

NOTES AND PERSONALS.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Solano have returned to the city and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Miller. Mrs. Jacob Mess of New York is in the city, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Briggs at the Melrose. Mr. and Mrs. Willard H. Stinson and Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Fleming have issued cards for a dancing party, Wednesday evening, November 20, at Turnverein Hall. Miss Juillard and F. A. Juillard of New York were visiting Mr. and Mrs. James Calvert Foy. Mrs. F. P. Springer entertained at cards Friday evening at her home on Twenty-second street. Rev. Dr. C. C. McLean of Simpson Methodist Episcopal Tabernacle left on Thursday in company with his little son, for a brief trip East, to Chicago, Philadelphia and New York. The ladies of Epiphany parish (on the East Side) will hold a bazaar and sale of ladies' work of all kinds in the afternoon and evening of Thursday next, November 14, in Odd Fellows' Hall.

TELLER IS AFRAID.

THE COLORADO SENATOR'S VIEWS ON POLITICS.He Thinks Asia is Going to Monopolize the World's Manufactures.And That Mexico Injured a Deeper Interest—The Rate of Exchange Causes the Evil.A Chance for American Capital—The Senator Talks About Politics,
Cripple Creek and Gold Production.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Senator Teller of Colorado has just been east on a business trip. He went west before the report of his candidacy for the Republican nomination was suggested, and he did not discuss the matter with anyone—at least for publication. He was quoted, however, as advocating the nomination of Mr. Allison, and this expression is contradicted flatly in an interview of more than an hour which I had with him.

Mr. Teller is one of the most outspoken men in public life. Whatever he thinks on any public question he is not afraid to say. And as the Vice-President, Gov. Morton, said of him in conversation a few days ago, he is quite able to hold his own in debate. My conversation with Senator Teller was held for the purpose of newspaper publication and he authorized the use of it as it appears here.

"What we need," said Senator Teller, "is parity between gold and silver. How that is to be brought about except through the adoption of the free coinage of silver, I do not know. Possibly the United States might have a way. No one has. We have nothing to expect from this administration and nothing from the next Congress. The administration is under the influence of three or four men in New York—or possibly two would cover it. I could not undertake to name them but I have no doubt you could do so. I fear neither party will name a man who will be satisfactory to the silver States. If either of them does, the old parties are going to disintegrate in Colorado."

"It looks as if the next President would be a Republican. And it looks now as though he would be named by the East and at that he would be a gold man. If so, Colorado will not vote the Republican ticket. As for myself, if the Republican party names a gold candidate, I will not follow it in that folly. I will not stultify myself by supporting a candidate whose principles I believe to be opposed to the best interests of the country and to the liberties of the American people. I should prefer to resign from the Senate and retire from politics rather than to support a candidate whose principles I do not approve. The people of Colorado will be against any candidate representing the gold interest."

I asked the Senator if the people of Colorado were taking a very lively interest in politics.

"They are interested chiefly in making money," he said. "They are engaged largely in developing the gold fields of the State. The silver mines are still producing but not to the extent that they did before the decline in the value of silver. The well-developed mines with large reserves of ore are shipping; the smaller producers are closed down. But the gold mines of the State are developing wonderfully, and I believe that within a very short time Colorado will be producing $25,000,000 a year in gold. The Cripple Creek camp is the most remarkable mining camp in the world today. I was down there for several days this fall. They claim to be taking out now a million dollars a month. I think they are taking out about $5,000,000 a year. But the output is increasing all the time. And they are putting in machinery now which will increase the yield wonderfully. Stratton, who owns one of the finest properties in the camp, will not take out more than a certain amount a month, because he has no use for the money. In fact, he has more money now than he knows what to do with. So, even in the next year or two, the camp will not be producing probably to its full capacity. The gold yield of the entire world is going to increase, though I think that within a year the production of gold will be $250,000,000 a year."

"And what will be the result of that?"

"An increase in the price of silver. Perhaps enough advance to bring the price back to the point where the silver in a dollar will be worth 100 cents as bullion. All prices are bound to advance with the greater influx of gold, and the price of silver will advance with the rest, since silver is only a commodity now. That may remove from the minds of the people their prejudice against silver, which grows out of the fact that the silver dollar contains only 50 cents' worth of silver bullion. You cannot make people understand, somehow, that, when the mints of the United States are opened to the free coinage of silver, the dollar will not be paying 100 cents for 50 cents' worth of metal—that the value of the silver when it comes out of the ground then will be $1.25 an ounce."

"Do you believe that the establishment of another ratio than 16 to 1 would help solve the silver problem?"

"No, there is too much silver in circulation at that ratio now to admit of a change. In India there are enormous quantities in circulation at 15 to 1. Note the ratio of coinage made by India, 15 and 16 somewhere. And I believe that if the United States, Germany and France would throw open to the world silver bullion was worth $1.33 an ounce. The Indian wheat exporter gets twice as many rupees per bushel for his wheat as he would if silver was at par. This is the bounty which stimulates the export of wheat from India to Europe. We are suffering now a great disadvantage in our foreign commerce because of the rate of exchange. We will suffer still more if we do not have the free coinage of silver with us. In ten years, we will have a competition which will not only drive our manufacturers out of foreign markets but will bring in from Asia a class of cheap manufactured goods with which we cannot compete. The low price of silver acts as a tariff on all imports into the silver-using countries from the gold-standard countries, and on the other hand, it acts as a bounty on all the exports from the silver-using countries to the gold countries. This stimulates manufactures in the silver-using countries, as well as encourages exports from those countries to gold countries. In exchange for their exports, they receive gold, with which they purchase cheap silver, coin it, and put it into the currency of their country with the same purchasing power that it had thirty years ago. Thus we not only destroy our markets in those countries but we are putting them in active competition with our own manufacturers. There will be only one refuge for us then if we wish to maintain our position tion as a manufacturing nation—we will have to put up a prohibitive tariff wall and keep out foreign-made goods. I believe that if the present conditions continue for another decade, Asia will be long most of the manufacturing for the world. Both the Chinese and the Japanese are deft people. They are not inventive, but they are imitative, and the progress they have made in manufacturing is wonderful. They can live and thrive on wages that mean starvation and death to an American or European laborer. I was talking a few days ago with a missionary who had just returned after a six-years' stay in China—returned just in time to save his head, by the way. He told me that it would not be possible for one who had not seen them to realize the progress that the Chinese had made in the last six years in manufacturing."

"Will not their conservatism keep out foreign machinery?" I asked.

"For a little time longer, perhaps," said the Senator. "But the war with Japan is going to make a great awakening in China. This missionary tells me that the present Chinese dynasty is doomed. The people are so that it has ceased to exist, and it is tottering to its fall. With the inauguration of a new ruler, changes will come. The Chinese are a people of fine business ability. Not the river Chinese, whom we know, but the Chinese of the interior. This missionary, who had been to the interior, told me that they were a fine, well-developed race, with splendid business talents. In fact, he says that the most successful business enterprise in Japan is a Chinese at their head. He says that there is the difference between the Chinese and the Japanese that there is between the Scotchman and the Englishman. The Parliarian is a dapper fellow, all courtesy and smiles; the Scotchman is a hard-headed, practical man. So the Japanese are the men of affairs. They are a more forceful people. They are not honest. They have absolutely no conscience in their composition. I believe, but they have business capacity. The Chinese have coal and iron and copper. They have 400,000 square miles of coal fields of extraordinary richness. They have never mined it much, because they have had no need for it. But when the mining begins, it will be a big thing. They will have this coal supply close at hand, and a vast army of cheap laborers to do their work. If the Chinese themselves will not undertake to introduce manufacturing, the capitalists of America and England and Germany will do it. How long would it take you to raise a million dollars for a manufacturing enterprise in China among the capitalists of New York, if you could find a man who could make me twenty or thirty per cent. in a year?"

"Machine shops in Monterey and other places in Mexico have taken away from Denver the trade in machinery which we had with Mexico for so long a time."

"There is where the rate of exchange hurt our business. The Mexican when buying his machinery, could not believe after the decline in the price of silver that he was paying the same price as before for what he bought. The rate of exchange made him pay two Mexican dollars where he had paid one before. To his mind it was as though he had doubled the price of goods. He would not pay the advance and now he is manufacturing his own machinery. Manufacturing is being introduced into Mexico very rapidly. At present you will find nothing in the houses of the wealthier people that was manufactured abroad—most of their trade is with Germany and England. But within a few years all this will be changed. Mexico is now manufacturing all her own goods and she is manufacturing furniture and other things for home consumption. I was in one of her cotton mills. It is the most complete, if not the largest mill in Mexico. All of the work is done right there, beginning with the manufacture of the patterns. I asked the superintendent, who was a Swiss, how his workmen compared with those in the French mills where he had been. He said that they were not quite so good, but they were much cheaper. And he would make them as good, too, in a very short time. His chief difficulty at first was to persuade the natives to come to work regularly. They wanted to work three or four days and then lay off for a few days to spend their money; but they were becoming more regular in their attention to their duties then, and no doubt by the time they are quite as efficient as the workmen of France. So it will be with the Asiatic in time. Japan even now is manufacturing and shipping to this country a rug which could not be manufactured here for anything like the retail price, and the importers are making a very large profit on it. It is not a high grade rug. It will not wear very well, perhaps, and it is a cheap rug and it looks well. Japanese silks are coming into this country in large quantities. Just now they have to be sent to France and Germany to be finished. But how long will it be before the Japanese can put this finish on for themselves? There never was a thing which the Chinese or Japanese saw some one else do that they could not do for themselves. We will have the Japanese displacing our silk product out of the market before long. And the competition of the Asiatic people is something we are not prepared to meet. The burdens of civilization rest lightly on them. Their taxes are small. Why, the entire debt of China before the recent war was not more than the debt of the city of New York. As to Japan, the debt of that country is not more than $7 per capita and $5.50 of that is held in Japan. The per capita debt of the United States is not less than $15. Both nations live more cheaply than ours, and if they ever come into serious competition with us, I am really afraid for the future of American industries."

Senator Teller told me that he knew the instance of American capital being taken into Mexico and retaining 40 per cent. for his investors in three years. He thinks there is a splendid chance for investors in that country. But there is even better chance in Cripple Creek, in his judgment.

"I know two young men," he said, "who put $100,000 into some prospects in Cripple Creek, and today these men could sell out their interests for $300,000. I saw some very fine opportunities for investors there. If I had had any money to spare I would have liked to put it in. There are 147 mines there shipping ore today, and the camp is one of the richest in the world. I have been to Cripple Creek and I have seen the silver. I will have letters to lay before the Senate in December showing the amount of silver that has been taken out of the ground at a cost of 16 cents an ounce and that they have got it out in quantity at 25 cents. Silver was never reduced as low as 25 cents an ounce. They are getting out ore worth $2000 a ton there right along. It is a wonderful camp—the most wonderful camp in the world."

Senator Teller knows a good mine when he sees one, for, though he has never mined silver, his hands have been in probably as many mines as any other man in this country. His law practice was chiefly in mining cases for many years, and he has made a good many investments in mines, most of which have been reasonably profitable. He has never made a "strike," though he once declined to accept a share in a fabulously rich mine (then undeveloped) as a fee in a law case. His interests have always been in silver, though he is so pronounced an advocate of silver.

I asked the Senator to tell me who he thought would be the nominee of the Populists. He said, "that it will be a man who has not been discussed—some outsider on whom the moneyed people of the East will agree and for whom they will raise the necessary funds to get the nomination and carry on the campaign. I suppose you know how Cleveland and Harrison were nominated?"

I pleaded guilty to attendance on both the national conventions in 1882 as well as in 1888. And I suggested that both of them were nominated by votes of the delegates.

"They were both nominated by money raised in New York," said the Senator. "The night before Harrison was nominated, a supporter of Mr. Harrison was going around Minneapolis trying to cash a draft for $20,000 which someone had given him. I do not know what he wanted to do with the money at that time of night, but it was generally suggested that it was to hold some war veterans supporters in line. Both Cleveland and Harrison were nominated through the influence of the rich people of the East. The next candidate, I believe, will be nominated in the same way. The Populists certainly cannot elect. With the showing they have made in this administration, I think the Democrats don't stand any chance."

"Would Senator Allison be acceptable to the silver people of Colorado?"

"He would be more acceptable than some of the other candidates, but even he would not be acceptable. Colorado wants a candidate who is in favor of silver—squarely and openly. No other candidate will be acceptable to the people of Colorado. These gentlemen who are keeping their own counsel on the subject would better speak out, because we will assume that the man who is not for us is against us. We want a silver candidate and, from present appearances, I fear we will not get one from either party."

Teeth Extracted

POSITIVELY AND ABSOLUTELY

...WITHOUT PAIN...

NOTHING INHALED--NO GAS--NO ETHER-- NO CHLOROFORM.

and above all, no Cocaine used, which is dangerous. From one to a full set of teeth extracted at one sitting without a particle of pain, danger, or bad effects, making the task one of pleasure rather than one of dread.

YOU DO NOT HAVE TO "TAKE SOMETHING AND RUN THE RISK."

THE ONLY SAFE METHOD FOR ELDERLY PEOPLE AND PERSONS IN DELICATE HEALTH.

YOU MAY NOT BELIEVE that we are daily extracting teeth without hurting our patients, unless you have had work done by us. This, too, may seem just as absurd, viz., that it is a common occurrence for us to extract from ten to thirty teeth at one sitting, and the patient get up from the chair without having felt the slightest pain. Many dentists have reached the height of their ambition if the patient, in having a few teeth extracted, admits that it hurts "only a little."

The above statements are facts, whether believed by you or not. We will be only too glad to have you call at our office and be convinced, or to give you city references of scores of people who have had the number of teeth mentioned extracted, who are only too willing to vouch for our statement. Some dentists claim to accomplish the same results by the use of chemicals or of gases, which all know are more or less dangerous, while the Schiffman Method is harmless, to people of delicate health, to those with heart trouble, or to little children. If you do not believe this, try other dentists and then us, or vice versa, and arguing with you will be needless. We have something superior to any other method yet discovered. If you are skeptical come and be satisfied, and your friends will not be long in learning of it, for people are rapidly finding that there is little use in suffering from dental operations.

ONLY 50 CENTS A TOOTH.

We have decided to do all extracting (Painless) at 50 cents a tooth, and the first one free of charge where several are extracted. We do this to demonstrate that we can do as we claim. Our extracting room has been especially fitted up and equipped for this painless work and enables us to see and wait on hundreds of patients a day, at a moment's notice, and no waiting.

READ WHAT A FEW SAY ABOUT OUR METHOD:

Hon. W. W. Braden, ex-State Auditor of Minnesota, now living in Los Angeles, says: I cheerfully recommended Dr. Schiffman's method for the PAINLESS extraction of teeth. I KNOW HOW IT IS MYSELF. W. W. BRADEN. I came forty miles and had two teeth extracted WITHOUT PAIN. MRS. E. J. ERWIN. LOS ANGELES, Sept. 11, 1895. Dr. Schiffman extracted WITHOUT PAIN two old teeth which have pained me for weeks. JAMES MORRIS. Dr. Schiffman extracted some teeth for me, also did some filling and other work without causing me any inconvenience. MRS. W. H. FILLMORE, 148 N. Sichel street, L. A. Dr. Schiffman extracted five teeth and filled four teeth for me, besides doing some other work, by his new method, without a particle of pain. CLARA HECKMAN, Azusa, Cal.	Dr. Schiffman extracted three roots by his new method for me, and I never felt a particle of pain. LUCY MUELLER, 519 East First street. Dr. Schiffman extracted two badly decayed and ulcerated teeth for me, without a particle of pain. MISS MARY LEHMAN, 711 Elmore avenue. Dr. Schiffman extracted a tooth for me by his new method easier than any tooth I ever had pulled, and I take great pleasure in recommending him to all my friends. MRS. J. S. PHILLIPS, 278 N. Sichel st., East Los Angeles. Dr. Schiffman extracted a tooth for me without giving me anything and took the tooth out without pain. The tooth was a very badly ulcerated one, and was affecting my ear. After this I shall have any teeth that need extracting done by Dr. Schiffman. MRS. M. B. HAMBLE, 829 Winston street.	Dr. Schiffman did some extracting and filling for me WITHOUT HURTING me; also did some bridge work which is highly satisfactory, and did it without pain. I may also add that his prices are very reasonable. MRS. M. BRIGHTOLIFFE, Vernondale. Dr. Schiffman took out eight teeth for me without hurting a bit, all in the space of about two minutes. Other dentists were afraid to undertake the extracting; said my teeth pulled too hard, and they were afraid to give me anything to prevent pain. MRS. HENRY ROWAN, South Los Angeles. I had three ulcerated roots that were broken off and left by another dentist. Dr. Schiffman took out all three WITHOUT A PARTICLE OF PAIN and even without my knowing anything about it. KITTIE M. FRANKLIN, P. O. Box 10, Covina, Cal.	Dr. Schiffman took out a root from my lower jaw that was broken off and left by another dentist. The tooth was ulcerating, and I was in danger of having lock-jaw. F. C. HALDEMAN, Foreman Bixby-Howard &amp; Co., Howard Summit, Cal. This is to certify that I have had ten teeth pulled by so-called experts in Chicago, St. Louis, Evansville and Louisville, but for neatness and dispatch, I mean quick and PAINLESS work, Dr. Schiffman's method has no equal. I can truthfully say it was entirely painless to me; and a few moments before my tooth was pulled, which was done in a few seconds, I was suffering intensely. I have taken gas and vitalized air, and they are not to be COMPARED. J. W. PATILLO, Office 118 South Broadway.	Dr. Schiffman's method for the painless extraction of teeth is certainly the most wonderful achievement in modern dentistry. Recently I was compelled to avail myself of the new process, with delightful results. MRS. T. E. ROWAN, 508 South Main St. I had a badly ulcerated wisdom tooth extracted, without hurting, by Dr. Schiffman. B. F. Day, Southern Cal. Music Co. November 6, 1895. The best method on earth. I had two bad teeth extracted ABSOLUTELY WITHOUT PAIN. They were decayed so bad that I dreaded the ordeal, but it was a pleasure rather than anything else. I can highly recommend Dr. Schiffman as an artist in his line. JEREMIAH JAMES PARKER, Tacoma, Wash. To Whom It May Concern: This is to certify that I had an ulcerated	tooth extracted by The Schiffman Method Dental Co. without its hurting me the least bit. W. L. FINCH, Punkte, Cal. Found It Only Too True: Dr. Schiffman extracted for me ten teeth, and I did not mind it a particle. I had been dreading it for some time, and was unable to make up my mind to have it done. But my poor health, which was caused from the badly decayed teeth, compelled me to have them out, and hearing of Dr. Schiffman's painless method of extracting the very worst kind of teeth, I went and tried it myself, and found it only too true. My ten teeth were out in no time, without any pain whatever. I am more than pleased with his painless method of extracting teeth, and can recommend him to every one who has teeth that must be extracted, and who hesitates for fear of being obliged to suffer the terrible pain. The Times

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

From almost every portion of Orange county comes the news of the sound of the saw and hammer is daily heard, and that as a result of this well-known sound improvements of various kinds are going on.

The deadly barbed wire permanently marked a victim each of the man and horse kind, at Santa Monica, Friday night. A suit of the wire was found to be in an encounter than the innocent-looking barbs on a taut wire.

Another new brick block is being erected at Anaheim. The old "Mother Colony" does not improve as rapidly as some other Southern California towns, but the improvements it makes are of a good, substantial kind, that will last for almost all time to come.

Citizens of The Palms have pledged their earnest support to the Los Angeles-Santa Monica boulevard project. The Palms is noted for the enterprise of its people, as well as the picturesque of its location. In other words, the Palmites know a good thing when they see it, and will help to push it along.

It is rather interesting to Californians to notice the shipment of 30,000 barrels of flour to the natives of Asia. By and by education may be the means of teaching the people to the west of us that they are underfed and thus increase the demand for our prepared cereals for a time, though it will be a far cry to the day when John Chinaman gives up rice and rats for something more wholesome, which shall give iron to the blood and make him something of a fighter.

The Hon. James McCoy, who died in San Diego on Friday, was a California pioneer of unusual activity, with a record for personal bravery on the battlefield and astuteness in political life which was highly creditable to himself and to the State. Coming here in 1850 as a private in Magruder's famous battery, he soon distinguished himself sufficiently to be entrusted with a small independent command. With fourteen men he once held 500 mad-dened Indians at bay and finally repulsed them. In civil life Mr. McCoy's career was one of continual advancement.

FELL FROM A CAR.

Deputy County Tax Collector Robinson Hurt Last Night.

Frank P. Robinson, deputy county tax collector, was hurt by falling from a main-street horse car last night. The car was going north and at Seventh street ran off the track. The brakes were applied and it came to a sudden stop, throwing Robinson off so that he struck on his head, producing concussion of the brain. He was taken into a drugstore, and afterward to the Receiving Hospital, where, at an early hour this morning, he had not fully recovered consciousness.

Gen. Last's Staff.

Brig.-Gen. C. F. A. Last, the new National Guard brigade commander, has appointed the following well-known gentlemen to constitute his staff: Lieutenant-Colonel and Assistant Adjutant-General, Maj. J. A. Drifill, (retired); Pomona, Major and Inspector, Capt. J. W. P. Dias, Co. G, Ninth Infantry, Redlands; Major and Engineer, Officer, J. H. Dockweiler, Los Angeles; Major and Quartermaster and Paymaster, John W. A. Off, Troop D, Los Angeles; Major and Commissary, Charles T. Meredith, Azusa; Major and Judge Advocate, John T. Jones, Los Angeles; Major and Inspector, Robert H. Bowers, and Ordnance Officer, First Lieut. J. L. A. Last, Ninth Infantry, N.G.C., Los Angeles; Major and Signal Officer, Maj. Madison T. Owens, (retired); Los Angeles; Lieutenant-Colonel and Surgeon, Dr. J. J. Choate, Los Angeles; Captains and Aide-de-Camp, First Lieutenant and Quartermaster, George H. Bowers, Ninth Infantry, N.G.C., San Diego, ex-Capt. Charles M. Baker, Los Angeles, Brigade Quartermaster, Sgt. Edward A. Lavin, Co. B, Ninth Infantry, San Diego; John W. Edwards, Redlands.

Fired a Revolver.

J. E. Gross, a private detective, was arrested at Alameda and Commercial streets shortly after midnight this morning. He is charged with discharging a firearm. A pistol shot was heard and Officer Stephenson, after going to the place and investigating, put Gross under arrest. He denied that he had done any shooting, and said he had no pistol. A revolver with two discharge cartridges and its chambers still warm was found on his person.

A Football Fiasco.

The Whittier-Occidental football game yesterday ended in a wrangle, each club claiming the victory. The Occidentals scored 12 points in the first half of the game, but quit, owing to an unsatisfactory decision of the umpire. The Occidentals still claim the Southern California championship.

MUSIC AND MUSICIANS

The opening concert of the second season of the Krauss String Quartette will be given Monday evening, November 12, at the Blanchard-Fitzgerald recital hall. The quartette, which consists of Arnold Krauss, first violin, A. J. Stamm, second violin, C. G. Muscat, viola, and L. Oplid, cello, will be assisted by Miss Helen Schields, contralto, and Miss Blanche Rogers, pianiste accompaniste. A delightful programme will be given.

Miss Mollie Adella Brown has gone to New York for the winter. Miss Remington Davis will sing Mercadante's "Ave Maria" at the morning service at St. Vincent's today. The pupils of Prof. A. Schmitt, assisted by the East Side Quartette Club and the Pirie orchestra, will give an evening of music Tuesday evening, November 26, at the Blanchard-Fitzgerald hall.

F. W. Blanchard of this city, who is coming to be known as the composer of some very pretty music, both instrumental and vocal, has recently written a charming song, entitled "Because," set of five verses, a march and a gavotte are among the compositions already published.

NOTES. Sauret, the great French violinist, will be accompanied by Lachaux, the same pianist who accompanied Ysaye to this Coast last season, and will have the same manager, R. E. Johnston. They will be heard first on this Coast at the Baldwin Theater, San Francisco, beginning the week of May 11. Sauret is said to be equally as great as Ysaye, with a finesse in his playing, a march and a gavotte are among the compositions already published.

The advance sale of tickets for the Paderewski concert on the first day, and continued on the same scale on the second. From which may be derived the conclusion that the Paderewski craze is still in full bloom.

A young Irish girl by the name of Conway is proclaimed from Ireland to be a coming prima donna. She is said to possess a phenomenal voice. She has been engaged by Sir Augustus Harris, and will appear under the stage name of Ednie Delrita.

There is now much in the European papers of a pianist, who, if continental report speak truly, is to eclipse all the players who have been heard in many years. His name is Herr Alfred Resener, who is the success achieved by him in Russia, whether he was a few years ago, quite unknown, that his agent there admits having made a fortune for him.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

The Chain Gang.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9.—(To the Editor of The Times.) The spectacle of several wagon-loads of men with balls and chains on the legs being driven through the principal streets of the city every afternoon, and then clanking their chains into the City Jail through the throngs of passers-by on Second street, is not a pleasant one for Los Angeles citizens to contemplate, and many expressions of disgust are heard as the daily procession goes by. To strangers within our gates, the spectacle gives an erroneous idea of the stage of civilization and humanity to which Los Angeles has attained. The chain gang is indeed a more characteristic of the condition of affairs that prevails in a rough-and-tumbled mining camp than one of the territories, than of a city which claims—and with some justice claims—to stand foremost among the cities of its size in the United States as center of intelligence, philanthropy and art.

These men who are thus hauled through the streets of Los Angeles twice a day, after the fashion of Russian prisoners on their way to Siberia, are not desperate criminals, convicted for heinous crimes, as a stranger might be justified in supposing. They are simply vagrants, charged with misdemeanor, and in some cases there may be found among them men who are more sinned against by society than actual sinners themselves. The official in charge of the gang recently added to his assortment of iron jewelry three big "Oregon boots," weighing probably thirty pounds apiece. One of these was attached to the leg of a little bit of a Chinaman, whom any able-bodied officer could have swung around with one hand.

There is a general impression among the public that the chain gang is under the control of the police department, and the Chief of Police occasionally comes in for some criticism for the manner in which the thing is conducted. This is an erroneous idea, and does injustice to Chief Glass, who is entirely in sympathy with those citizens who criticize the present method of managing the chain gang. The City Council appoints a captain of the chain gang, who has two assistants to help him. From the time the police department turns the prisoners over to this man until they are brought back in the evening it has nothing to do with them. The Street Superintendent only has to say in what place the chain gang shall work, so that in reality the captain of the gang is not responsible to any particular person, but only to the Council at large, and we all know that such divided responsibility does not amount to much.

As far as the work accomplished by the chain gang is concerned, it is perhaps not too much to say that the city might accomplish about as much by hiring men at regular prices to accompany the wagons and working them in a business-like manner. The men sit around between wagon loads, and to a stranger seem to be moved around the

The chain gang, if it is to continue to exist, should be placed under the control of the Chief of Police, who would see that on the one hand its most objectionable features are done away with, and on the other hand that the men do enough work to pay the city for the expense of taking care of them.

Shooting at a Dance.

NEBRASKA CITY (Neb.), Nov. 9.—At 1:30 o'clock this morning Tom Maher, a well-known character about town, shot and fatally wounded Miss Maud Fessler at a dance. Maher was enraged at the sight of Miss Fessler preparing to go home under the escort of another man. Fred Plattner received two bullets in the cheek while attempting to disarm Maher.

A Steamer on the Rocks.

NEW LONDON (Cl.) Nov. 9.—The steamer Puritan of the Fall River line, 250 passengers and a large quantity of freight, went ashore on Big Gull Island this morning. The information was brought to New London by a mate, who rowed over from the steamer with the ship's crew. The steamer lies hard and fast on the rocks. Wrecker Scott proceeded at once to the steamer's assistance with two tugs.

A Failure in Cotton.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 9.—The failure of T. G. Majors & Co. was announced on Cotton Exchange today. They were heavy bulls. The cause of the failure was a drop of 25 points in futures this morning. The firm, it is said, is carrying 30,000 bales of spot cotton.

A Mining Man Killed.

GRASS VALLEY, Nov. 9.—Victor L. Dorsey, assistant superintendent of the Marysville mine, was killed on the mine at 12 o'clock and died from his injuries.

It's wonderful how the trade grows. Not so wonderful when you know the reason. Study these lines well. Note the prices. No disappointment in our advertising. Goods are up to representations here. The qualities are best; assortments the largest.

Comb, Brush and Mirror, three pieces in a set, made by the Florence Manufacturing Co., of Florence, Mass. The Brushes are filled with the best quality pure bristles. Looks like Celluloid. Better for wear. They go to you for less than half price. Three qualities, for 39c, 50c, 75c, for the set of three pieces.

Kid Gloves, 4 buttons; two different styles, all colors; all sizes; 79c for the choice of 100 dozen.

Fine Kid Gauntlets, the kind every merchant sells for $1.50 a pair. Here, $1.00.

Best Biarritz Kid Gloves: Every size and every shade; $1.00 instead of $1.50.

Underwear. Note the prices. Come and examine the qualities. Just as represented. We place a value upon our advertising. To juggle with it would lose its character.

Ladies' Union Suits, $1.00 instead of $1.50; Ladies' Jersey Ribbed Vests, 25c for the 35c kind; 50c for the 75c quality; 33 1-3c for the 50c grade.

We come to the best in the lot. That wonderful Dress Goods Department. Only a few pieces for Monday. Worth remembering. Worth seeing. Worth comparing.

Twenty-five pieces all-wool Serge, the regular 75c quality. Sells for 75c every day in the year. Monday's price, 39c a yard. One pattern only to a customer. None laid aside. No samples given. Your money back cheerfully, if you want it.

All-wool Plaids, 50c and 75c a yard; you know how great the demand for Plaids is; Cotton Plaids; look like wool; 20c a yard.

Domestic department is now selling more than three times the amount we sold two months ago. It is growing beyond the limits of a big increase.

Bed Comforts for Monday; just a little lot; will last about two hours; $1.25 for the $2 grade; another lot, filled with pure white carded cotton, $1.25.

A few Blanket bargains, 75c, 85c, $1; gray and brown are the colors; the sizes are extra large; unlike most cheap blankets, these are odorless; better Blankets for $1.50, $1.75 and $2; for better qualities the values are fully as good, if not better, $2.50, $2.75, $3, $3.50, $4 and $5. We want you to see our greatly-enlarged and improved bedding department; these prices are made to get you to visit this department.

No such Towels in the city for the money, 25c; many 25c towels are sold by all merchants; this is a special lot, and the price is far less, quality considered, than you ever saw in any towel department in this city.

Cape bargains; Fur Capes; the $12.50 Fur Capes, $8; the $12 Fur Capes, $7.50; the $8 Fur Capes, $5.50; all the better grades at greatly-reduced prices for Monday only; all Fur Capes marked to sell for $35, $37.50, $40, Monday the price will be $30. It is the finest and best fur stock you ever saw.

Ladies' Wrappers, fleece-lined, extra quality, $1; worth anywhere $2. Perfumery bargains, two for 25c for the 25c quality; 25c for the 50c size; finest extract in the market.

GRAND EXHIBITION OF HOTEL RANGES ALL NEXT WEEK.

Roasting on Wednesday. Hotel and boarding-house people especially invited.

We have sold up to last night 151 Majestic Steel Ranges, and during the Hotel Exhibition will sell 50 more of the family ranges on the installment plan, giving away a high closet with each.

This Range we keep in stock in four sizes, No. 57, 58, 59 and 60. They are the most economical Hotel Range in the world, made of Malleable Iron and Ingot Steel, can be arranged in batteries to suit customer; can have one or two water heaters for steam table and pressure tank as desired. One or both ovens can be heated at a time. Come and see it in operation in the store. Roasting on the Range Wednesday.

The Question of Economy

When great corporations are expending thousands of dollars in devices to save time, labor and materials, there is evidence enough that this is an age of economy. We wish to put the strongest emphasis upon the economical features of the

STEEL RANGE.

This Range is the greatest saver of fuel, food and of woman's strength and nerves. It brings the cost of cooking down to the minimum and keeps it there. No wonder it is turning the cook-stove business upside down, because it is a revelation in its way.

The Majestic is no experiment—Took 30 years to perfect it.

MAJESTIC STEEL AND MALLEABLE IRON RANGES ARE THE BEST IN THE WORLD! CALL AND SEE THEM.

Majestic Ranges

With proper care WILL LAST A LIFETIME. Their great superiority over all others consists in their Malleable Iron parts that never crack or break. All others are cast iron. They will do full work with ONE-HALF THE FUEL of any other Range. Try one! The oven heats more promptly, and bakes in less than half the time of others. Buy one! Biscuits are baked in four to six minutes. These Ranges roast to perfection. Use one! You can't afford to buy any other Range.

THE DICTATES OF FASHION AS PROCLAIMED BY

The J. M. Hale Co.

ARE AS CLEAR AND AS PLAIN AS A WHISTLE.

The excellency of any stock of merchandise is only equal to the facility which a firm has for securing the correct styles, correct qualities and correct prices. No other dry goods firm in Los Angeles, (or for that matter on the Pacific Coast,) has better facilities for the purchasing of all the latest effects, and at the lowest possible market prices than we have, it therefore stands to reason that if we use our facilities, (and we have every reason to believe that we do,) there is no other firm can approximate our success.

PURE-MILK CRUSADE.

CHALK AND WATER WILL BE HEREAFTER TABOOS.

Inspector Blackinton is going to Make it Hot for Vendors of Adulterated Milk—Sixty Dishonest Milkmen on His List.

Meat Inspector Blackinton has inaugurated a crusade, the results of which will secure for him the thanks of every citizen in Los Angeles—saving the luckless victims of the said crusade.

It will be remembered by those who have followed the movements of the Board of Health for some time in the past, that the question of impure and adulterated milk has been frequently discussed by the medicals composing the board, and the monthly reports of the meat and milk inspectors have been examined very carefully.

At a meeting of the board held several weeks ago the inspector declared that nearly half a hundred dealers in milk adulterate the lactical fluid before disposing of the same to customers.

The scheme was then discussed, and the inspector prepared a list of the milk dealers who violate the law, and giving this list to the press for publication. This idea was concocted to have some good features, but definite action in the matter was not taken at the time referred to.

The Milk Inspector has not been idle in the mean time, however, but has continued to accumulate proofs and evidences of guilt on the part of the milk dealers, and at the meeting of the Board of Health, held last Wednesday, submitted a list of over sixty milkmen who have been found by him selling adulterated milk. The board held a short secret session to consider the proper method of handling the matter.

The result of this conference was that Inspector Blackinton was instructed to get his proof and evidence ready, and then to make arrests of guilty dealers, and the board would stand at his back in prosecuting the offenders.

The inspector has now a large amount of such evidence in his possession and announces that during the early part of this week he will make arrests by the wholesale.

This matter has been kept secret up to the present time, to allow of proof being collected by the Milk Inspector. Dr. Steadom of the health office says that he will in the future revoke the license of any dealer found selling adulterated milk.

The ordinance upon the subject provides that "no person shall sell, offer or have for sale or in possession within the city of Los Angeles any unwholesome, impure, watered or adulterated milk, or from cows that are swill milk, or from cows that for the most part are kept tied up in stables, or from those that are fed on swill or like substance, or from diseased cows."

Besides numerous other provisions it is provided that all milk sold within the city shall withstand certain prescribed tests.

There are numerous other provisions in reference to registry of milk peddlers. Violation of the ordinance renders the violator subject to a fine of not to exceed $200 or imprisonment not to exceed two hundred days.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula for a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, and at the meeting of the Board of Health, held last Wednesday, submitted a list of over sixty milkmen who have been found by him selling adulterated milk. The board held a short secret session to consider the proper method of handling the matter.

The result of this conference was that Inspector Blackinton was instructed to get his proof and evidence ready, and then to make arrests of guilty dealers, and the board would stand at his back in prosecuting the offenders.

IF WOMEN CAME TO CONGRESS.

WHAT WOULD BE THE RESULT?—THE QUESTION VARIOUSLY ANSWERED BY FAMOUS THINKERS.

Criticism of Congress by Susan B. Anthony and Helen M. Gougar—Clara Barton's Sensible View—What Cady Stanton and Lillie Devereux Blake Think—United States Senators Who Don't Want Women—Views of Women Lawyers and Doctors.

Cassius M. Clay on Women Government Clerks—Senator Chandler Afraid of a War—M. D. Harter Doesn't Want to Mix the Sexes—Gen. Dave Henderson's Experience with Women—The Views of Ex-Senator Ingalls and Henry W. Blair—Other Letters.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2, 1895.—The "New Woman" is rapidly coming to the front in the United States. She already votes in many localities, and within the past year she has made herself felt in many of the States upon the public school boards. The question will soon come as to whether she ought to have a place in the halls of Congress at Washington. This question has already been discussed, and during the past few weeks I have sent requests for an expression as to the effect of such an innovation to a number of our prominent statesmen, and also to the leading women of the United States. My question was:

"If women came to Congress, what would be the result?" It was accompanied by a reply postal card, and the answers were necessarily short.

They Would Abolish Slavery.

Here is what Susan B. Anthony writes:

"When women come to Congress, both the men and the women will be put on their best behavior—morally, intellectually, socially—because the sexes together always inspire each other to be and to do their best. The huge cursors at every seat will be banished, the heating registers will no longer emit the fumes of tobacco, and the two houses and the corridors will cease to be filled with tobacco smoke thick enough to cut with a knife. The desks will not be used as footbenches; decency and good order will be observed in the discussions, and the proprieties of debate will be observed. Then justice, not bargain and sale, will decide legislation. May the good time come speedily!"

Cady Stanton's Opinion.

"The result would be: 'First, Justice, liberty and equality for women. 'Second, it would lighten the burdens of men. 'Third, it would improve the manners of statesmen at the Capitol, and society at large in the country. 'Fourth, it would give us the united thought of man and woman on all the great questions of the hour, introducing a moral element into the discussion of questions now viewed only from a material standpoint, and thus promote the welfare of the nation, and the stability of the republic."

"Elizabeth Cady Stanton."

Views of a Woman Lawyer.

"If a woman was sent to Congress, she would go there by the votes of the people, and would therefore be likely to be a wise woman, and if so, would study political questions and their bearings upon the mass of the people, and would probably say the right thing in the right place, and vote the right way. My experience with women in great international conferences, where much thought is required, is that they are zealous and conscientious. The effect of women in Congress on the masculine portion would be civilizing and refining. Belligerent encounters would be unknown. BELVA A. LOCKWOOD."

What a Woman Doctor Says.

"Why don't you ask me to settle the question on a postal card? As matters are, the conditions of the people are worse with woman in Congress than they are now without her. The sending of women to Congress would strengthen women, restrain men, elevate Congress, improve the nation, and cleanse social life, giving one standard of virtue for men and women alike, and equalize all of the relations of life that are subject to human adjustment, and give to posterity the political ethics that would revolutionize our present methods of dealing with moral questions, the treatment of criminal classes, the insane, the weak and the unfortunate, opening a door leading to the answer of our daily prayer, 'Thy kingdom come on earth.'"

"If women came to Congress, they would be the first to be put on their best behavior—morally, intellectually, socially—because the sexes together always inspire each other to be and to do their best. The huge cursors at every seat will be banished, the heating registers will no longer emit the fumes of tobacco, and the two houses and the corridors will cease to be filled with tobacco smoke thick enough to cut with a knife. The desks will not be used as footbenches; decency and good order will be observed in the discussions, and the proprieties of debate will be observed. Then justice, not bargain and sale, will decide legislation. May the good time come speedily!"

COLONEL INNES OF MICHIGAN.

HOW HE REPULSED A FORCE OF THREE THOUSAND MEN WITH THREE HUNDRED AND NINETY.

Attacked Five Times in Vain at Laverne, Tenn.—The Man Whom Confederate General Wheeler Could Never Take—Innes's Promise to Gen. Rosecrans and His Laconic Answers to Repeated Demands to Surrender.

(Contributed to The Times.)

The town of Laverne, Tenn., lying on the direct line of communication between Nashville and Murfreesboro, was the scene of several severe conflicts between the Union and Confederate forces during the civil war. When I first saw it, early in May, 1863, its inhabitants had all fled and only two or three smoke-begrimed buildings were all that remained of a once thriving and peaceful village. The most heroic of these conflicts, and one of the most remarkable of the entire war, was the defense of this place by Col. Innes of the First Michigan Engineers and Mechanics, numbering, all told, only 391, without artillery or other aid, against a force of three thousand men, the most formidable of the Confederate army, under the command of Gen. Wheeler. The most heroic of these conflicts, and one of the most remarkable of the entire war, was the defense of this place by Col. Innes of the First Michigan Engineers and Mechanics, numbering, all told, only 391, without artillery or other aid, against a force of three thousand men, the most formidable of the Confederate army, under the command of Gen. Wheeler.

On my return up the Nashville railroad, late in May, 1863, I had for travel companion Capt. Firman of Gen. Wheeler's staff, then being conveyed as a prisoner of war to the penitentiary at Nashville. We fell into conversation, during which he graphically described to me the conflicts in which he had been personally engaged, as a member of the First Michigan Engineers and Mechanics, during the defense of Laverne, Tenn., in May, 1863.

As the train halted at Laverne, he said to me: "I was in the front room of that small house during Wheeler's first attack on this place, when a shell from one of your batteries entered just beneath the window—you can see the hole from here—and exploded directly at the feet of Wheeler and myself. A lady sat at the piano. The piano was shattered, and the lady was thrown to the farther end of the room, but not one of us was hurt. The general and I made a hasty exit by the rear door, but our companion, in her fright, ran out at the front. As she came under that old tree standing by the corner of the house, another shell burst over her head, but, strange to say, she again escaped unhurt."

"Our worst fight was with Col. Innes of the Michigan Engineers. He was posted on that little elevation at the right of the railroad, and we came upon him just as the sun was rising on New Year's morn'g. As our batteries emerged from those woods on the south side of the town, Col. Wharton told me to summon the Yankees to surrender, and riding up to the flimsy breastwork, I called out 'Gen. Wheeler demands an instant and unconditional surrender.'"

"Give Gen. Wheeler my compliments, and tell him we don't surrender much, but we'll fight to the death."

Col. Innes had previously told me that he then mounted his Kentucky roan and rode slowly down the rude in-trenchment. "Boys," he said, to his men, "we are only 391; they are 3000—have you said your prayers?"

"We are ready, colonel. Let them come on," was answered by the Michigan men.

They did come on. "Five times we swept down upon them," said Capt. Firman to me, "and five times I rode up with a flag and summoned them to surrender; but each time I was sent back the message, varied now and then with an adjective: 'We don't surrender much.' He sat on his horse during the first charges as if on dress parade, but at our third assault I saw him go down. I thought we had winged him, but when we charged again there he sat as cool as if the thermometer had been at zero. One of our men took deliberate aim and again he went down; but when I rode up the fourth time he said: 'Will not summon you again—surrender at once.' It was Innes who shouted back, 'Pray don't for we don't surrender much.' At the fifth charge, as we were ordered, another officer was sent with the summons. Your people halted him a few hundred yards from the breastworks, and an officer in a cavalryman's overcoat came out to meet him."

"They had killed my two horses," said Col. Innes to me, and I was afraid they would send my uniform—my fire was rather hot, so I covered it."

"What is your rank, sir?" demanded the Union officer."

"Major, sir," was the answer.

"Go back and tell Gen. Wheeler that I refuse to send one of my regiments to treat with one of mine. Tell him, too, I have not come here to surrender. I shall fire on the next flag."

"It was Innes," continued Capt. Firman, "and by that time he had made up his mind that he had received reinforcements. Thinking that he was not to be taken, and the next day Innes sent Wheeler word by a prisoner he had returned to us that he had whipped us with only 390 men." There was a gleam of genuine admiration on Capt. Firman's face as he added: "The North has sent many brave men to the war, but none braver than Innes."

About a fortnight before my meeting with Capt. Firman, as I sat one morning reading a newspaper in the "sides room" at Rosecrans's headquarters in Murfreesboro, a tall, erect, sinewy man, with fine features and dark flowing hair, entered the room and passed through it into the next apartment—that of Gen. Garfield, then chief of staff to Gen. Rosecrans. In a moment the man returned, and stalking directly up to me, his steel-hilted sword clanging on the floor at his every step, he said in an abrupt, energetic tone: "Sir, are you the man who wrote 'Among the Pines'?"

Not knowing exactly what construction to put on his question, I answered in a manner, I rose to my feet, and, without extending my hand, replied: "I am, sir, at your service."

"I want to take you by the hand, sir, God bless you!" was the hearty response.

As I took his hand, I said: "And you are—?"

"Col. Innes—Innes of the Michigan Engineers," he replied.

"Oh!" I exclaimed, "you are the man who don't surrender much?"

"Not much," he answered; "that is, I never did, and I hope I never shall."

I told him I would like to know him better, and he sat down and fought his battles over again. When he had concluded, I said: "Met an old negro at Laverne, Tenn., who told me that you had been a white man."

"I tried to," he answered, "for the old darkey saved me from a surprise. I told him I would like to know him better, and he sat down and fought his battles over again. When he had concluded, I said: 'Met an old negro at Laverne, Tenn., who told me that you had been a white man.'"

ARE SNAKES HYPNOTIZERS?

A San Diego Gopher's Capture of a Bunny.

(CORRESPONDENCE FROM THE TIMES.)

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 3.—A gopher snake at Escondido has been the cause of much earnest discussion among local naturalists. The question discussed was, "Do snakes charm or hypnotize their prey?" One of the naturalists had the unusual, but fortunate, experience of happening upon a large gopher snake just as the reptile was about to overcome a trembling cottontail rabbit and envelop the animal in its deadly coils. From a mirror the naturalist watched the snake's movements. It was within ten or twelve inches of the apparently fascinated rabbit. Silently and almost imperceptibly the snake had wormed its way nearer and nearer to its victim. Its eyes glistened with an intense brightness. Not a movement did the snake make which might alarm the timid rabbit. The forked tongue, which to the eye of a human being is so repulsive and intended to excite disgust, appeared to exert an entirely different influence upon the mind of the innocent rabbit. This darting tongue either excited the curiosity of the rabbit, or the animal so concentrated its mind on the snake's tongue as to throw that mind into a hypnotic condition of such strength that the snake, by means of the spell and run away from impending death. The forked tongue darted out of the snake's mouth almost regularly and rapidly as the needle of a sewing machine rises and falls into the cloth. The little body crept nearer and nearer. The rabbit was so fascinated that it failed to break the spell, and slowly grim death in snake form wreathed its folds about the creature. The snake's head was fully ten inches from the rabbit's head. The strong coils of the snake were in position. Never a rabbit lived that could break that embrace of death. Realizing that the reptile was upon its neck, the bit struggled vainly to escape, and as the rings of the snake drew closer about the frail form so tightly that breathing became difficult, the rabbit uttered a despairing cry of almost human intensity and sound. It was its last earthly utterance. An extra twist of the cruel coils and poor creature was more. Lungs, heart and bones were literally crushed. The snake did not relax its pressure for fully ten minutes. The snake undertook the tedious task of swallowing the rabbit whole. It seemed impossible that a snake with a body of about the size of a man's wrist could swallow a rabbit with a stomach a full-grown rabbit. Opening its mouth the greedy captor forced the membranes of the rabbit's head and jaws over the rabbit's head. So wide was the mouth when opened that the snake appeared

AN AMERICAN'S OBSERVATIONS IN GEORGETOWN AND EN ROUTE.

What He Saw at Barbadoes-Colored Statesmen—Britain's Military
The Blacks and the Venezuelan Trouble—Making Mischief Among the Natives.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES) GEORGETOWN, Demerara (British Guiana), Sept. 26.—This letter will be sent from the above city, as at the moment of our arrival there an American mail steamer will take charge of it, and we expect to strike the anchorage fourteen miles from Georgetown tonight.

We had a very pleasant visit at Barbadoes, notwithstanding the island has the reputation of being treacherous in the extreme, on account of violent hurricanes prevalent among the coral reefs which encircle it. Original and more eighty-eight thousand negroes live on this unique piece of land, which is about twenty-one miles in length and ten and one-half in width. It is a low sparsely tree-covered, with fertile, carefully-cultivated area, which brings forth the babe's and invalid's delight (arrowroot), called so because the indian extract from its roots poison to saturate their arrows with. Sugar and rum are raised and exported, and Barbadoes being the most important of the windward islands, is bringing considerable revenue to the crown of Queen Victoria.
The windmills seen all over this island and the round stone towers are the only remnants of the original and early owners, the Hollanders, from whom the Britishers "cabbaged" it.

From the roadstead we were rowed ashore to Bridgetown, and entered our names upon the books of the "Trafalgar House," a thoroughly English hostelry on the square opposite a bronze monument of Lord Nelson.

The business part of the city consists of several very narrow streets, filled with buildings of every size and shape, and crowded all day long by groups of chattering negroes, bargaining for the miscellaneous contents, which remind the American of the cheap retail stores at home.

The streets are covered with pulverized stone, quarried around here, and dust in dense clouds makes promenading very trying to the eyes and disastrous to clothes.

Barbadoes having its own legislature, and Bridgetown being the capital, the government houses are situated here, consisting of assembly and council chambers, etc. The public buildings are close to the hotel, and most of the principal civil officers board here.

The members of both houses present a novel appearance, somewhat spotted,
as they are of all colors, from pure white to coal-black, and it looks peculiar to see an ebony-colored statesman in full dress, minus shoes, rise in his place and address, in English which defies description, the assembled members.

A very interesting-looking old structure is the Church of England's cathedral, built in 1688, containing a large organ, walls covered with memorial tablets, surrounded by crumbling tombstones, and with walks within and without paved with grave-slabs.

According to those tablets, a large majority of saintly Englishmen must have been exported to Barbadoes in the last century.

In the suburb is situated the garrison post, called "Hastings," and to visit it we took the only tramway in town, kept in motion by two of the biggest mules in South America.

A strong contingent of British troops has to be kept on the island, so a colored officer informed us, as the negroes employed as soldiers, as well as police, vastly outnumber the whites and are not to be trusted in motion by two of the biggest mules in South America.

This gentleman stated that a disastrous visitation which exists among the native population of the island of Barbadoes is apt to be a result of any trouble resulting from the action of England in Venezuela, as the blacks here are in correspondence with the inhabitants of the numerous islands, and cultivated islands lying on the estuary of the Essequibo.

Our informant stated that a son of Gen. Ralston, Governor of a prominent political in Venezuela, and two others were travelling incognito through British Guiana, and making mischief among the natives, and that he refused from England's yoke if they kept aloof from aiding the Britisher whenever the trouble came.

"When you go to Georgetown, British Guiana, go to Akyma, up the Dogarara, call at this address (giving us a card) and you will see that I speak the truth," he said, and Akyma will certainly be visited by your correspondent. ALBERTO CORLETTE.

LAY SERMONS.

The earth, with us, will soon wake to a new resurrection. Nature's baptism has come to it, and the life-giving rain has poured its benediction upon it, while the warm sunshine is penetrating the soil, stirring all the elements of growth, and the mystery of unfold-ment. Out from the darkness and silence in the bosom of the earth will soon leap the mighty armies of springing grasses and growing twigs and flower, and the mystery of new life will soon stand revealed.

How like human life is this! The winter of death and of silence must come to us all, but, thank God, after that is the blessed resurrection! Death does not end all! It is the quiet nighttime of our repose, after which will come the Christian the glorious awakening, the morning of immortality. Dying is simply slipping off our earthly fetters, the grossness of the flesh, and then waking to the largeness of spiritual being, to unfettered growth, to the joy of wider and wider life.

These thoughts lighten life's burdens, by helping us to bear its sorrows. It is but a little while, at the longest, that earth is for us, and then, if we grow sufficiently into the likeness of Christ, is the life with Him. If faith is strong, can we not catch a glimpse of "the green pastures" and our ear catch the musical murmur of "the still waters"? Faith has mighty Pisgahs of vision from whence the heavenly Canaan is seen beyond the rolling waters of death's Jordan. And is your heart weary, there is rest; is it sorrowful, there the Pitying One who loveth us, and whose voice is forever saying, "Come unto Me all ye who are weary and heavy laden and I will give you rest." Rest from sin, from pain, from care and all earth's sorrows.

But life is a warfare. The cross before the crown. The battle before the victory. We want no slipping into heaven without effort. The mighty battling of the soul with sin makes us strong if we but resist. Resistance of temptation brings us nearer to Him who "in all points was tempted like as we are yet without sin." Strength, strength of purpose is born of struggle, courage comes to us as we put on the whole armor of God and fight His foes and our own.

Do you want to go to heaven and feel that you have never done one thing for Christ here? How would you feel to sit down with Elijah and Moses and Paul, with Martin Luther and all the noble army of Christian martyrs, and consider that you had simply slipped in at the open gate of heaven
without any struggle or effort?

There are little struggles in life that count a great deal hereafter. If

The Chance of a Lifetime.

You have a sorrow and struggle cheerfully to bear it, that is a kind of battle of Kelo's gun with the thumb, stick
the whole thing out at a safe distance
from the face, shut one eye, take aim—
make ready—and let the hammer slip—bang!

Not so with Kelo, however; he took his fragrant relic and strode away through the brush to see what the dickens the dogs were raising such a row about. He has three dogs. One is a young, stout, ginger hound, savagely at a middle-sized dog—and the third is a little yapping fyke. They sing tenor, alto and treble, and the way they were making the rocks of life a caution.
As their master approached the scene of the disturbance, his nostrils were assailed by a peculiar mephitic odor that is worse than the stench of a vicinity of the harmless, necessary skunk. "Ph-e-w!" said Kelo, "I'll give it to 'em for bringing me up here for nothing but a dratted polecats!" and he climbed on over the rocks in deep disgust.

The rocks on the top of this hill are huge cubes and rectangular blocks as big as houses, fresh flung from the hand of God. The dogs were barking about the crevices of one of these. Kelo climbed laboriously to the top of it, so as to look down and find the polecats or wildcat, or whatever it might be,
when heaven and earth as he scaled the crest, a giant mountain lion made a rush past him, close enough to touch, and he stood staring down, savagely at the yelling dogs, switching his tail with an uneasy, nervous energy. The great cat had not yet seen the man. How would you have liked Kelo's situation?

Alone on the summit with this powerful beast too close for him even to attempt to shoot with his crazy venueen—nothing to help him but his three snarling dogs! He seized his stockless gun by the muzzle for a club, and resolved to sell his life as dearly as possible. But the gaunt, yellow lion made a spring, down among the dogs, struck them off to right and left, and went in great leaps down the steep mountain side that slopes toward San Jacinto.

The dogs pursued, and after them flew the excited Kelo, who was now going to see it out if it took all summer. Down they went, for a mile or more, through brush, over rocks that would have cost the life of anyone but—a mountaineer. Kelo is not able to wait or sit down easily yet, and the dogs don't feel well either.

At last the big cat, harassed and confused by the following dogs, took refuge in his lair, a cave among the rocks some distance above the Pico Sierra; and when the man arrived the dogs were fiercely barking into the mouth of the cavern and the lion was at bay. Kelo pushed in among the dogs, in the thick of the fray. Suddenly the middle dog shot like an arrow at the lion and seized him by the throat. At a word from his master, the hound rushed in and seized the great cat by the jaw,
and the fyke followed suit by worrying his prey in the flanks. The scene was indescribable. Fur and blood, yells, growls, howls, snarls, demoniac cries and shrieks of the damned filled the echoing cavern and the circumjacent atmosphere. Kelo held up the hammer of his ancient shooting-iron and pointed the muzzle in toward the fearful cat; the creature let me be actually standing on the lion's tail. As the great brute raised his head above the struggling dogs the hammer was released—
for a wonder, the cartridge exploded, and the whole top of the lion's head
was blown to smithereens!

If there is any record of bigger game killed in California with a more insignificant weapon, we'll like to know it.

(Escondido Times.) A sin de sicle philosopher has come to the conclusion that there are two kinds of the new woman—one is demonstrating that she has brains and the other is showing that she has legs.

(Prescott Journal-Miner.) Didn't somebody say that we are soon to get Japan's entire trade? We note that an order for 800 miles of submarine cable, to be used between Japan and Formosa,
has been placed in England.

Now this gun of Kelo's is a fearful and wonderful weapon. The city sport, loaded down with a spike and span hunting outfit, might not admire it, for it looks more awkward and ill-balanced even than the Krag-Jorgensen rifle adopted for the army. The gun had once been a single-barreled shotgun, but it had the misfortune, some time in the misty past, to have the whole stock smashed off—the hammer was left, it is true, but it wouldn't stand cocked under any circumstances—and everything about the hammer was gone!

Some of my brave readers who are not afraid to pull a trigger may think it an undesirable job to hold up the hammer of Kelo's gun with the thumb, stick

the whole thing out at a safe distance
from the face, shut one eye, take aim—
make ready—and let the hammer slip—
bang!

IN UNION THERE IS STRENGTH!

The English and German Specialists Have Secured the Services of Dr. Price as Their Specialist for Catarrh and Bronchial Troubles, and They Now Have the Best-Equipped Institute and the Finest Staff of Expert Specialists in California.They Have Incorporated With a Capital Stock of $250,000, for the Purpose of Building a Hospital and Medical College and Treating Chronic Diseases.

The Consolidation.

Recognizing the great success of Dr. Price as an Expert in the treatment of Catarrh and Bronchial Troubles, the English and German Specialists have succeeded in securing his valuable services as their Specialist in these diseases.Dr. Price will continue treating all of his former patients at the prices at which he took them, and his change in becoming a member of the Staff of the English and German Specialists will not affect any of his former contracts.

Articles of Incorporation.

The English and German Specialists have now filed articles of incorporation under the laws of the State of California with a capital stock of $250,000, for the purpose of treating those suffering from chronic diseases and building a hospital where their numerous patients can have careful nursing; to build a medical college where they will teach general practitioners their different specialties and where students will be graduated for the medical profession.

The Staff.

THE STAFF of the English and German Specialists comprise the following physicians, who are not only graduates of well-known medical colleges, but who have by reason of years of experience become experts in their chosen specialties, and have been professors of colleges and authors of standard medical works:DR. P. JANSS, president of the English and German Specialists, is a graduate of the College of Physicians and Surgeons and of the Bellevue Hospital Medical College of New York, member of the Medical Society of Berlin, professor of St. George Medical College, formerly president of the Illinois Medical and Surgical Institute, author of several medical works and an accepted authority on chronic diseases.DR. PRICE is a graduate of three medical colleges, has had two years' hospital practice in New York and Philadelphia, and in his subsequent practice of twenty years has attained a success in the treatment of chronic diseases that is marvelous.

DR. C. N. HOPKINS.

The Staff.

DR. F. PALMER was graduated from London's best medical college, and after three years' hospital practice in England he came to this country, where for fourteen years he has given his entire time and attention to his specialty. He was one of the first physicians performing laparotomy with success.DR. L. MEYER is a graduate of the Vienna (Austria) Medical University, and his large hospital experience, supplemented by twenty-two years' practice in the treatment of chronic diseases, places him high among the specialists of this country.DR. C. N. HOPKINS is a graduate of Cornell College, College of Pharmacy of Chicago, Department of the Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill.; College of Physicians and Surgeons, Chicago; attendant West Side Free Dispensary and Cook County Hospital, Chicago, for two years, and assistant at the Presbyterian Hospital of Chicago. In his specialty he is unexcelled and has made some wonderful cures in Los Angeles and vicinity.

A GRAND DONATION.

Knowledge is Power.

Realizing this, the English and German Specialists have decided to give to the people of Los Angeles and vicinity the grandest donation ever made in the cause of human knowledge. Actuated by motives of the highest philanthropy, the English and German Specialists will present to each of their new patients a copy of Janse's Medical Cyclopaedia, or Janse's Private Counselor, as they may select.JANSE'S MEDICAL CYCLOPAEDIA is a complete description of the human body, its diseases and their treatment. It is fully illustrated by plates especially drawn fromnature, showing the various organs in health and disease. It contains a colored anatomical manikin with key showing every muscle and organ of the body. Among its contents are chapters on Anatomy and Physiology, Materia Medica, Therapeutics, Diseases, their cause and treatment, Diseases of Children, Surgery, Care of the Sick and Convalescing, Hygienic Living and the Hygiene of Diet, the whole forming a comprehensive and highly instructive volume of 1000 pages, substantially bound,
and which has never been sold by the publishers for less than $5.

Knowledge is Power.

JANSE'S PRIVATE COUNSELOR contains colored plates showing the various organs of a private character. It is not intended for general circulation, but for the use and guidance of persons of mature age. It is fully illustrated and contains chapters upon Organs of Reproduction, Pregnancy and Labor, Childhood and Youth, Courtship and Matrimony, Sexual Sins and Weakness, Diseases of Women and Venereal Disease of both sexes, forming a volume of interest to all adults and comprising 400 pages, substantially bound, and has never been sold for less than $3.00.The English and German Specialists have bought from Dr. Janse, the author of these books, 2000 copies, which they expect to donate to the first applicants.
By the donation of these valuable books, a donation whose total amounts to several thousand dollars, the English and German Specialists are moved by a desire to place in the hands of their patients a guide and a counsellor, that in future years will aid them in caring not only for their own health, but for the health of those dependent upon them.
The noblest duty of the physician is not to cure, but to prevent disease.

READ WHAT THOSE WHO HAVE BEEN CURED SAY.

Mrs. W. R. Brown.

Here are the pictures of two patients whom the English and German Specialists have treated and cured. Read what they say. Both are well known here, Mrs. Brown having lived in East Los Angeles for over four years, and Mrs. Bartlett has been resident and property-owner here for twelve years.Cured of Catarrh.I have had catarrh with dropping in the throat for five years, and I have been afflicted with hay fever for ten years. Those diseases caused a nervous trouble which made me to twitch whenever I raised them. I had lost my taste of food and had no appetite. Today after taking your treatment of four weeks I am cured of the catarrh and the tickling in my throat. I can eat heartily and food tastes good.
My hay fever is gone, and I feel so much better that I am glad to endorse your treatment.

Yours gratefully,
MRS. W. R. BROWN,
No. 455 South Workman street.Cured of PILES AND KIDNEY DISEASE.For twelve years I have not had a whole night's rest, my trouble being itching piles of the very worst kind, and for almost fifty years
I have been suffering from kidney trouble.
In fact, from boyhood my back has ached. For the past twenty years I have been unable to stand still on my feet for more than ten or fifteen minutes.
Five weeks ago I commenced taking the treatment of the English and German Specialists, and I can sleep all night, and last Sunday
I stood for two hours without pain or trouble.
I know I am cured and I also know the English and German Specialists have cured me when other doctors whom I have tried during my twelve years' residence in Los Angeles have utterly failed. I am glad to give my testimony to this wonderful cure, for although I am 67 years old, I am feeling stronger and better than at any time in twenty years.

The Reason of the English and German Specialists Great Success

In the treatment of chronic diseases is in the fact that they have a specialist for each class of disease, who, because he has given his whole life's study to that one disease, has become an expert in treating it.The time is past when the family doctor can treat all the ailments that the flesh is heir to,
and the best informed among them fully admit this, and are daily sending their chronic cases to expert specialists.There are a few doctors who, with a little knowledge grafted on conceit, dose their patients with strong, nauseous drugs, which undermine the constitution and break down
the patient's health.
Remember, they have a staff of five Expert Specialists, who have given a life's study to the treatment and cure of chronic diseases.In the English and German Specialist Institute one specialist treats catarrh, bronchial troubles, asthma, lung troubles, etc.Another specialist treats private and nervous diseases of men and women and chronic diseases.Another specialist treats diseases of the skin and scalp, as eczema of the blood and circulation.Their surgeon performs all operations and treats all cases of deformity, such as spinal trouble, rickets, hip-joint diseases, removes goitre, fistula and piles, rupture and cancer
without the use of the knife.

NOW IS THE TIME.

Disease, as is well known, never sleeps, it never rests, but once fastened on the body it continues night and day its dread work of destroying the body and sapping the very life.
When you sleep disease is at work; when you rest, disease is busy; when you are tired, disease is gathering new strength. Delay means danger. Then why trifle longer with some al-ment or trouble you do not know the nature of, when you can have advice and be cured?
Why will you put off the day when you can be well and strong again and trifle with a disease which may end in death? Read the testimonials of some of those whom the Englishand German Specialists have cured. Go and see these people. Their address is given. Ask them about their cure. They will tell you every word here is truth. They will tell you of weeks and months of suffering and pain, which the expert physicians of the English and German Specialists have cured.If you are doubtful, if you have tried many doctors and are no better, if you are almost discouraged, go to the English and German Specialists and let them consult with you and examine your case. For this consultation they charge nothing, and their specialist in your disease will tell you frankly what can be done for you. Go to them and be convinced that every word they say and every promise they make is true.

DR. PRICE.

EVERY ONE KNOWS of the wonderful success of Dr. Price in his new treatment of Catarrh and Bronchial troubles. His cures are marvelous. The disagreeable sensations accompanying catarrh yield at once to his new treatment, by which his healing medicines are sent directly to the diseased parts, driving outthe microbes of disease just as the ferret seeks out the rat, and drives him from his lair.
Dr. Price will give to any one a free trial treatment for catarrh, that all may know how prompt and efficacious is his wonderful catarrh cure. As a member of the staff of English and German Specialists.

Home Treatment.

If you are sick and don't know just what ails
you, do not put off consulting THE ENGLISH AND GERMAN SPECIALISTS. Write your troubles if living too far away to consult these experts in person. Thousands have been curedall over the country by correspondence and by medicine sent secure from observation.
The New Guide to Health sent free to all describing their troubles.DR. PRICE will continue his treatment of Catarrh and Bronchial troubles for $5.00 a month, including all medicines.
